The government, it is understood, intends immediately to declare Kaligan and four other important towns outside the great wall open as treaty ports, the object being to give vital interests to other foreigners, thereby interesting them in preventing Russian interference.

The murdered woman had been lured by the Goolds to their villa and robbed of valuable jewelry. Her dismembered body was packed in trunk which was shipped to Marseilles. The trunk later was found among the baggage of the Goolds.

Mrs. Goold was originally sentenced to be guillotined and her husband to life imprisonment. The woman's sentence was commuted to life imprisonment of the division, superintendent of the division, Under Suspension.

SALT LAKE (Utah) Jan. 8.—Folowing the suicide of Alma Harper, lowing the suicide of Alma Harper, assistant superintendent of the money order division of the Salt Lake postoffice, last Tuesday, it became known today that both he and Ora Weil Williams, superintendent of the division, had been suspended for alleged irregularities. The suspensions occurred Monday and the evidence obtained by postoffice inspectors has been turned over to the District Attorney for examination by the Federal grand jury. The inspectors working on the case say that those employed in the money order department have been in the habit of dividing among themselves the surplus cash accruing through over-remittances and in other ways.

PARIS, Jan. 8.—[Exclusive

PARIS, Jan. S.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Maurice Maeterlinck, commenting on the tango today, said:

"I consider the moral aspect of the question a secondary matter, but I find fault with the tango because it is not graceful and is rather silly."

Interdicts were published today by the Archbishop of Sens and the Bishop of Potitere. The former says:

"The tango already is reproved by simple homesty and Christian sentiment."

The latter says: "All dances are dangerous, but the tango is the most daring of all. Are we returning to paganism and its shamelessness?"

ALEANY (N. Y.) Jan. $.—A new proposition for the pardon of Daniel H. Tolman, the money-lender, serving a six months' term for usury, is under consideration by Gov. Glynn. It amplifies the previous offer of Tolman and his assignees inasmuch as it proposes to surrender unconditionally approximately $500,000 in notes, embracing principal and interest, in return for the remission of the remainder of sentence.

The notes are those of nearly 20,000 borrowers from Tolman in this State. Tolman's term will expire in a little more than two months. It is said the new proposal, if accepted, will remove the possibility of any future attempt to realize on the notes. Gov. we can save these rentals and every city department ample room in one center.

"Let me impress this point—that this is only a temporary measure. The people have spoken as to what purpose they want the State Normal School property used. It is not for a City Hall, but there is no prospect of the city carrying out the auditor in torium plans for at least two or three years, and the buildings are available for temporary use as city offices. As a business proposition, I say that the wise thing to do is to centralize all city departments there temporarily.

"I believe that this will stimulate a movement for the erection of a new City Hall, but that is a matter for the people to decide. I have not discussed any proposed $1,500,000 bond issue for a new City Hall at this time, and think it would be useless to consider such a thing under present conditions."

What Would Lincoln Do?

An Article by Dean C. Worcester, Secretary of the Interior in the Philippines.

Not so many people are aware that actual traffic in human beings exists and flourishes in the Philippines today under the Stars and Stripea. Mr. Worcester, in an open and frank statement, describes in detail the different forms of slave trading. The information is startling and presents one of the serious humanitarian problems that confront the government today. Native pictures taken by the author illustrate the article profusely.

You Can't Make It Pay

A Story by Henry Oyen.

"It is hopeless to seek to thrive by wrong-doing, no matter how shrewd, how brilliant you may be —you can't make it pay," are the concluding words of the judge who gave a three years' sentence to a clever gambler. But the young man thought he knew better. It was luck he blamed, but luck some day would come back—and at the outset of his penal service he felt that it had. The story is a masterpiece in its originality and development and grapples with a big moral and social problem. The illustrations by Jameson help tell a powerful story.

DANTALS ANNOUNCES DECREASE IN BIDS SUBMITTED.

Secretary States American Firms' Offers Were Lower Than Those of Foreign Firms—Contracts In-clude 2500 14-Inch and 20,000 4

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Secretary Daniels announced today that bids Daniels announced today that bus-jubmitted for the manufacture of pro-jectiles for the navy showed a de-crease of $858,825, as compared with prices paid last year. If the depart-ment takes advantage of the right to increase the orders 20 per cent, Secretary Daniels said, a saving of $1,067,780 for the government will be the result of the restoration of open and real competition between the bid-ders.

The contracts call for the manufacture of $500 14-inch armor-piercing shells, 1500 12-inch shells, and $2,000 4 and 5-inch common shells, the annual "food" supply for the navy's guns.

The competing firms include the Hadfield Street Foundries Company, limited, of England, and the Krupps of Germany. The greatest cut in the price of any one item was made by the Bethlehem Steel Company, which was awarded contracts last year for the 4-inch shells are $9.50, and this year offers to supply the same shells for $5.46 each.

The Bethlehem, Crucible and Midvale companies underbid all others, including the foreign firms.

The 14-inch shells were quoted by the Cricible company this year at $215 each. Last year's price was $490. The Midvale company was low bidder on the 12-inch shells, offering them for $165 each, against $274.75 last year. The F. W. Bliss company was low on the bids for the $5-inch shells, bidding $8.56, as the satisfaction of the whim of one man.

Yesterday Councilman Reed opposed the repassage of two spur track ordinances and they were held over another week. The ordinances already had been passed by the Council, but it was discovered that there were errors of description in both, and for that reason they were invalid.

The spur track ordinances, affecting a relocation of trackage in Alameda street, were passed several weeks ago during the absence of Reed. He was away on sick leave. Councilman Bryant then opposed the abandonment of the Fifth street stub, but did not vote against the spur track ordinances, although he was not in sympathy with the general depot plan.

Because his own union-station idea has not found general favor Reed became an obstructionist once more. His failure yesterday to vote for the two-spur track ordinances will hold the work back for some time and will probably put awry the plan to have a new passenger station ready for traffic with the opening of 1915.

Councilman Reed said yesterday that he will continue to block every plan to provide a way for the new station, notwithstanding that a mastation, notwithstanding that a

At breakfast next morning. Thompson approached their table and Stone said he never wanted to speak to him again.

Then followed what Mrs. Stone said was a rumor of a row between husband and wife.

"When we returned to Forest," she said. "the entire population of the mining camp was lined up, eager to see what would happen."

Unfortunately for Mrs. Stone, both Mrs. Thomas and Mrs. Taylor testified they thought she had paid too much attention to Thompson. In these circumstances, the court held that perhaps Stone was justified in forbidding her to dance with Thompson. Up to that time he thought Stone had acted unjustly.

some praise at the hands of Curtin and the other speakers, and it is needless to say there was some applause.

Curtin declared that the Wilson administration has kept its platform pledges and its faith with the people. "It stands unchallenged in its integrity of purpose," he said. "The Democratic party acknowledges no master save truth and righteoueness. The government of our country is now used for poor and rich alike."

Curtin declared the Democratic party, through its representatives in legislative bodies and public officials, had started most of the great economic reforms of the day, and that other parties, when they had control of governmental affairs, had simply put the Bourbon principles into effect and gobbied the credit.

He praised the Underwood tariff law, declaring it the "best tariff law were framed," and said the new Owendlaws currency law is a big step forward in placing the United States in the front rafk of international financial leadership. "At that," he said, "We have an elastic banking and currency system, fitted to the growing requirements of the country and giving the advantage of centralization under public control with a view to preventing abuse by private interests. "In spite of rabid denunciation, business standards were never so high as today," he said. "Many abuses have been permanentity eliminated by the Wilson administration, and more are to follow. Much legislation has been enacted for the benefit of the masses. Benevolence and humaniturianium were never upon such a wide and intelligent scale as today," He said. Miss Mary Foy and Mrs. D. C. McCann made short speeches. A resolution drawn by ex-Judge Rufus C. Porter, an old Texas Democrat, extolling the virtues of Wilson et al., was aftered with regular Tammany yells. In part, it was as follows:

"The Democrats of Los Angeles desire to express to our great party and every parirotic citizen of our country our entire confidence and unqualified admiration in our national administration. Despite these things, Jess showed that Los Angeles has met with steady growth in population, increase in building permits over all other years and was prosperous in other ways. A decrease in deposits amounting to $11,000,000 caused the banks considerable trouble and criticism from those who did not realize this.

"We are now on the threshold of new year, the outlook for which seems brighter throughout the world. Significant.

It is interesting to note the plan of the Women's Democratic League to hold a national convention at Washington, D. C., and to learn that the ladies will take their political status as something established and will ignore the question of suffrage so long as it is not a plank in the party platform. It must have been a question in many minds whether the national parties would separate the political activities of the sexes and as to the wisdom of extending this division of the work to national organization. It now fochs as if the Democratic women might have their own national committee. NATIONAL TRIBULATIONS. We all have our little troubles. None exempt. And as with the individual, so with the nations. At present Great Britain would seem to take first place in celestial affections, for she is being chastened to the uttermost limit.

Aside from her climate and her national priggishness, England has four alarming problems on her hands—the suffragettes. the Indian question in South Africa. Each empire, etc., is prepared to wreck the happy home if it can't have all that it wants. The suffragette attitude we all know, while Northern and Southern Ireland's respective threats to wallow in gore and insurrection if it does or does not get home rule right now are also familiar knowledge. Larkinism is newer and nastier still. James Larkin is the sort of inspired, but hopelessly illogical, insurrectionists that can do so much harm. An impassioned labor settlets, he is avecaging passioned labor agitator, he is succeeding in stirring up trouble in both England and Ireland to an extent that is embarrassing to the government, the public and the offi-cial labor unions alike. For, alas, for hu-man ingratitude, official unionism repudi-ates Larkin! But Larkin, like Mrs. Micawber, declares vociferously that he is never going to desert them, never. So half of what happens so long as everybody is thoroughly worried and uncomfortable. The other half yells at Larkin, and the Irish Nationalists yell at them both because their behavior may jeopardize home rule. But Ulster, snug little Ulster, throws in her sympathies with the Larkinites, for she, too, means to make everything jolly uncomfor-table for everyone if her special demands are not forthcoming.

And to cap all comes the Indian question.

India is the largest jewel in the British crown, as it were, and all by her very lone she is something of a problem at the best of times. IMPOUNDING FLOODS.

The Texas State reclamation engineer has reported that nearly every levee in north, central and south Texas recently failed in its purpose to hold back the floods, and has been greatly damaged, if not en-tirely washed away. He holds that this failure of the levees was not due to their defective construction, but to the unprecedented volume of the floods.

The remedy for destruction by floods is not to rely upon the resisting power of levees, but by impounding the waters ar or near their source. "If waters," says an exchange, "that should have been impounded, diverted, checked and directed when in the form of rivulets and small streams, are permitted to unite and to increase in volume, they will become uncon trollable. Then levees and all other works

The flood problem in the past has been handled from the wrong end. There is no bill now before Congress of equal impor-tance with the Newlands reclamation bill. Its passage and the construction of the works for which it provides will prove a benefaction to the people of every State i

FADS AND FOOLISHNESS.

BY GORDON RAY YOUNG.

It will soon be appropriate to remove one of the stars from the flag and insert in its place a jester's cap-significant of Wis consin.

That there should have been enough people having reached the legal age, in one State, capable of forcing legislation but incapable of seeing that it not only defeated their aim, but made Wisconsin the laughing stock of a nation, is substantiation of the late Mr. Wallace's theory that mankind is deleteriously affected by the hike down the corridors of time.

The neophytes of the eugenic fad swarmed into the Capitol at Madison and passed a measure supposed to require that Speaking of the Me passed a measure supposed to require that all candidates for Hymen's blessings be examined from teeth to toenalls by physicians to determine what potential blemishes were non-existent.

Straightway the Aesculapians raised a justifiable howl against being required to pass on the fitness of inciplent ancestors at $3 per head. The controversy, fanned by the breath of the faddists and the argu-mentative thoraxes of the doctors, grew to the dimensions of great publicity.

Then up popped one of those ferret-eyed lawyers who had been digesting State laws, as some of us do shavings for breakfast, and announced that it was not necessary to have a license; it was not necessary to have a physician's O.K. as a guarantee to posterity; it was not necessary to have a preacher or a justice of the peace assist to make a perfectly legal, Reno-proof marriage.

He announced that all required was He announced that all required was a marriage contract (kindly notice that lawyers make a business of drawing up contracts.) In that contention he is supported by a registrar of deeds who avers that he will record the contracts for—as the sideshow barkers say—"the small and insignificant aum of ten cents."

So there you are with a perfectly lorical insignificant aum of ten cents."

So there you are with a perfectly logical demonstration of what happens when good intentions get intricated with a lot of incompetent faddists.

Listen carefully and you may hear the ululations of the ministers who sometimes get seats at the marriage feasts and al-ways get fees for officiating at the marital ceremony. With the Irony so characteristic ceremony. With the frony so characteristic of fate, it chances that the ministers were the most energetic in getting the alleged eugenic measure written into the statutes.

Strange as it may seem to some of the people who try to help make laws, the efficacy of sanity is as valuable in legislation as in running a grocery store—a fact well established by Solon, although Lycur-gus and Draco conducted a laboratory of large dimensions. Moses gave us a tablet with ten simple commandments; and while Dr. Eliot may have doubts as to where he

The names of the perpetrators of the Wisconsin law, are unfortunately hidden from ridicule. Undoubtedly they thought they would win eternal fame by doing something original. The gentleman who burned the Temple of Diana of the Ephesians on the morning that Alexander was born had the same purpose in mind—and it was forbidden that people should speak his name. Nevertheless, Herostratus is not hidden from infamy, and Satire will undoubtedly pluck the chin whiskers of the incompetent legislative plumbers of Wisconsin.

Eugenics may have value when properly applied, and diseased persons have scant reason to marry. But in the name of com-mon intelligence the people who are fram-ing laws to cover such things should first know what they are about, instead of ex-perimenting at the risk of bringing con-tempt and ridicule down on their heads. But, incidentally, the law of Natural Selection has been in operation a few million years and seems to provide for this matter of propagation without assistance from the faddists of the Badger State.

Citrus By-Products.

AZUSA, Jan. 7.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I have been an orange grower in various parts of California for the last twenty-five years, and I wish to say that I was very much interested in the article on citrus by-products written by Mr. Frank Slokes, Jr., which appeared in a recent issue of your paper.

It seems so strange to me that the citrus industry has not worked out its by-products, as have the other big industries of the world. I firmly believe that citrus by-products will eventually bring more money into the pockets of those concerned than is now being made by the present methods of selling citrus fruit, Someone must work out an easy, practical way of extracting the juice and oll. Whittier and the University of Redlands will be invited to enter teams, as both colleges have expressed a desire to once more enter the cinder domain.

The field and Rules.

The field of competition will probably be decided by lot between Pomona, Oxy and U.S.C., then the field will go in rotation from one college to the other during the remainder of the years of conference competition, as was the case four years ago.

There may be a slight hitch in regard to the rules governing competition. Pomona and U.S.C. want full freshman standing as one requirement, while Oxy wants, in addition to this, a requirement that all past work

This fact is not due to lack of class, but more to the lack of players. It seems that nearly all the teams in the recent round robin were severely handicapped by lack of men. From now on more men are to be available for all the teams, which naturally means that there will be more competition, and as a result, a keener brand of polo.

The way the situation now stands, all the teams are strengthening up for the tourneys that will bring the Coronado squad into action, as the latter appear to be stronger than ever before.

TOO MELODIOUS.

The sothern-Marlowe interpretation has the charm of a fairy tale. The scene laid for the elopement of Jessica had about it the witchery of a Venetian night. It may not have been wise to elope by concert, but the music was delightful to the rest of us and the runaways did escape. They were married and will live happy ever after, for Shakespeare's men and women never wasted time fighting society by sidestepping the conventions of a marriage license when they made leve they knew who it was they wanted, the man and the woman having the cheerful habit of agreeing about the proposition and of sticking to the bargain after they made it. More Safety Devices.

The managers of the Mt. Washington Incline Railway have notified the Board of Public Utilities that they propose to install new safety devices on their cars. Plans for safety devices for the Angels' Flight Incline Railway are now in the hands of Engineer's department, who will make a report thereon to the Board of Public Works. Recently the board ordered the closing of one of the cars on the Angels' Flight road until the affety appliances are installed.

Bill Due—No Money.

Members of the Finance Committee are dismayed to find that the aqueduct power bureau has no funds on hand to make a payment of $92,995 due to the Abner Doble Company for Felton water wheels used on the power plant. The total contract price was $134,000 of which $92,295 is now due. The total contract price was $134,000, of which $92,935 is now due. The company has demanded a payment of $75,990 on this account, and the officials of the aqueduct power bureau admit that they have no funds available for that purpose, although the Finance Committee supposed that a reservation of power bond moneys had been made for this contract. A conference is to be held with the Board of Public Works, Electrical Engineer Scattergood and Special Counsel Mathews this morning to find a way out of the difficulty. The aqueduct power bureau was roundly scored by SONS GET ESTATE. Moses H. Long, whose will was filed for probate yesterday, divided his estate, stated to be in excess of $10,000, in equal shares among his three sons, Ellis R. Long of Bakersfield, Delbert W. Long of Convoy, O., and Emmet S. Long of this city. Among other holdings Long had 1000 shares of the Los Angeles Investment Company's stock.

DAMAGE SUIT. Suit for $250,000 damages was filed by J. C. Cline and six others interested in the National Vending Machine Company against O. F. Foss yesterday for alleged failure to buy machines from the company which were to be installed in the island possessions of the United States.

BREACH OF CONTRACT. Joseph R. Ghiselin filed suit yesterday against the Black Hawk Mining Company of New Mexico to recover $37,652, alleged to be due for salary and stock sold the corporation. Ghiselin alleges that

To DISMISS LIBEL CASE. Deputy District Attorney Shannon will today move for the dismissal of the criminal libel case against John C. Piver, editor, of a San Francisco insurance paper, work so well, which is quite the returned of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

This person, according to the charges, was in the employ of the Laskin Adjustment Company as a collector, and secured the company's blank checks, filling them in to suit his convenience, most of the checks being for $22.50. Disappointed in his ambition to become a member of Satan's Isle Comedy Company, which has mysteriously vanished from the city. Peter Nicholas complained to Deputy District Attorney Hogan yesterday that Joseph Rose, manager of the alleged company, had decamped with $200 of his savings. Nicholas, who is a Greek and not long in the country, says Rose offered him a position at $30 a week. A grand-larceny complaint was issued. TRANSCRIPT IS FILED.

The transcript of evidence in the appeal of Louis A. Larson, convicted of murder in the first degree, was filed in the District Court of Appeal yesterday. It will be immediately transferred to the Supreme Court, with a view to securing an opinion before February 13, the date fixed for Larson's hanging.

his convenience, most of the checks being for $22.50. That he encountered no difficulty in passing the checks is shown by the fact that he cashed the twelve within two hours Saturdax evening.

The forger made no attempt to make the signature resemble that of his employer but trusted to the credulity of the persons to whom he presented them. In every case he approached the bartender and after explaining his employment and showing his credentials stated that the check he wished to cash was his pay check. All of which seemed very probable, and when he explained that he was exceedingly thirsty this appeared even more likely. So, without further questioning, the difference between the cost of the drink and the amount of the check was forthcoming.

E. R. Laskin, whose name was signed to the checkes, said yesterday that he employed the collector the day after Christmas and that he left last Saturday morning, saying he had secured work with a wealthy family in Denver. It was not until notified by the bank Mondsy that Laskin discovered the missing checks.

According to Laskin, the suspect is on probation for a similar case of forger, but for a much smaller amount. The District Attorney's office and several private detective agencies are on the trail. KILLED BY LOCOMOTIVE. James McNally, 78 years old and partially deaf, while returning to his home at No. 1471 East Thirty-ninth street early last evening, was rundown by a switching engine of the Southern Pacific Railway at Thirty-eighth and Alameda streets and instantly killed. The body was removed to the Sterling Boothe Company's undertaking pariors.
